

ILLUMINATE QUEBEC

BLF Bookstore to be established in Canada

In the 1940's and 50's, missionaries Abe and Mary Kroeker were astounded to discover the lack of printed French resources as they sought to equip believers in France and Africa. In 1953, the ministry of BLF was started near Brussels, Belgium—providing French literature for evangelism and discipleship. Literature is a powerful tool for spreading the gospel. Long after the missionary leaves, the printed word remains.

BLF Canada is making plans to help make French literature more available to the French population in Quebec, and the rest of Canada.

The BLF Canada board has approved plans to establish a BLF bookstore in Quebec.

Although the plans for the new bookstore/distribution center are still in their early stages, it is a very exciting time.

A location has already been selected, in the basement of a church in Lachute, Quebec. (see photo, right)

There is much work to do, as we get the basement ready, seek funding, install equipment and furniture, build a website, and cover everything in prayer.

Haiti update

BLF International is raising funds to send library packs to pastors in Haiti.

Pastor Martouka from Togo, Africa, recently said this about the library packs: “The books have been a great help during this past year. In our church the theme of the year was temptation. The book Le Choix de la Purete (by Randy Alcorn) was very useful in teaching on this theme.”

During the past year, BLF Canada was able to send 50,000 mini-Bibles and 200 solar-powered media players (with French evangelistic messages loaded on them) to Haiti, via our partners La Bible Parle. BLF Canada is now looking to send library packs to Haiti as part of the BLFI project.

BLFI has asked that director Toe-Blake Roy lead a mission trip to personally deliver the resources once funds are raised. IQ

Loaves and Fishes for BLF Canada

Image downloaded from http://growinggrace2p318.blogspot.com/2010_09_01_archive.htm

I wonder what the little boy's mother thought. "My lunch fed over 5000 people today, mom!" Wow! (see Matthew 14:14-21) If only she could always make her groceries stretch like that. BLF Canada has found a way to help your groceries feed more than just yourself. We've connected with a group called Fundscrip. All you have to do is order gift cards from their website, for all the places you plan to spend money anyways, (grocery stores, gas stations, department stores, etc) and then Fundscrip donates a percentage back to BLF. Just like that! Your loaves and fishes are going further than before! Missionaries have many expenses, from fuel to plane tickets to meals to car repairs to stamps and paper... Using Fundscrip may not feed 5000 people, but it could help a missionary get to his mission field, or pay for a meal on the way. All you have to do is go to <http://www.fundscrip.com>. Click "Sign Up" in the top right corner. Fill in a user name and password, and use BLF Canada's invitation Code: FW68RJ Supporting missionaries just got easier. For more details, contact Zachariah Kenney zak@blfcanada.org

Featured Missionary: Zachariah Kenney- by Linda Roy

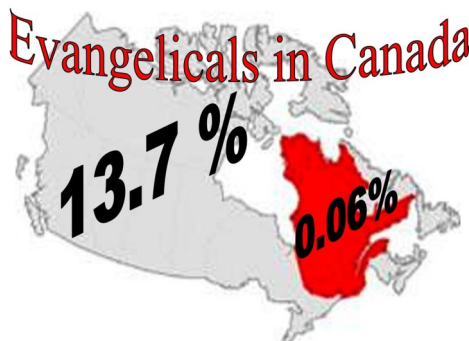

Zachariah Amos Kenney joined the BLF Canada staff in January 2011 as assistant to the director. Zak is a multifaceted man. He uses his excellent administration skills to assist the director in running the BLF Canada field and home offices. His main responsibilities are bookkeeping and communications.

Speaking of communications we are grateful for his dedication in sending out the weekly prayer requests and writing the IQ letter. Zak is a respected husband and a "hands on" father of four. He faithfully provides for the physical and spiritual needs of his family. His integrity and patience are character traits I have come to appreciate. But as his mother-in-law, what I like the most about Zak is his quick wit and his ability to coin new words like "flatsurfacitis" (the reason things get dumped on a clean desk) and "un-retuckable" (when the baby won't go back to bed).

"His integrity and patience are character traits I have come to appreciate."

Mark your calendars!
